

SuperStove has Ol' Belcher on the Run!

“It's time to clean up the air in this town,” challenges SuperStove, a local Airshed Action Hero. “Ol' Belcher's been eating up your firewood and smoking up your neighbourhoods for too long now. In some homes, he's responsible for wasting an extra five pick-up loads of wood per season. And where is this extra wood going? It's billowing out your chimney and polluting the air we all breathe.”

Help is here. “There's never been a better time to get rid of that old smoky stove,” says SuperStove. If you live between Terrace and Burns Lake, then you could qualify for a $250 cash rebate, plus in-store discounts at participating retail stores next March, favourable financing at local Credit Unions, and no town permit fees for stove upgrades.

What can you do to help?

First make sure that you're burning split, well-seasoned firewood. “If you cut it this year, then it's too green to burn clean,” SuperStove cautions.

And if you spot Ol' Belcher in your home or neighbourhood, then you or your neighbour should seriously consider upgrading to a cleaner burning appliance. “Join me this winter, and together we'll clear the air and get the most out of your wood, SuperStove urges.”

To find a registered retailer, or to help clear the air in your neighbourhood contact Colin Macleod at the

Woodstove X-Change Hotline:
1 888 334 0335

Or e-mail Colin.MacLeod@gov.bc.ca